SINNER'S CIRCLE OF CLEANING

These four elements of the Sinner circle combine together to ensure a thorough and efficient cleaning.

- Temperature: This affects the efficiency of the chemical product used, however it is not an all-determining factor as, although it helps the cleaning process when there is much grease, some materials are unable to withstand high water temperatures.
- Chemical Action: This is the set of cleaning products that should be used in each cleaning operation. This technique is an essential factor, as it is always important to select the product that is perfectly suited to the type of clean and to use the doses recommended. This is the only way to obtain optimum results without damaging surfaces, the environment or the health of the professionals.
- Time: This depends on the surface type to be cleaned, the dirt which has built-up, the product used and whether the wash is manual or with a machine.
- Mechanical action: This is the physical fact of removing the dirt. It can be in the form of a water jet from a high pressure cleaners and/or brushes or manual scrubbing action.
